

Excellent Program for Parents, Homeschoolers, and Churches

Finally...a complete and comprehensive character education program that provides a refreshing and unique approach to helping parents raise good-hearted children with God-oriented principles. Teach your children how to live for God in every day life by learning about:

The Golden Rule
Politeness & Manners
Kindness & Gentleness
Helpfulness
Forgiveness
Patience
Obedience & Respect
Honesty & Trustworthiness
Thankfulness
Cheerfulness
Diligence & Persistence
Faithfulness
Doing the Right Thing

These lessons are loaded with wonderful aids to help you teach these principles to your children. There are Bible verses, songs to the tune of well-known nursery rhymes, practical real-life stories and examples of proper trait behavior, discussion scenarios, activity pages, crafts, reinforcement ideas, award certificates, and more!

A wonderful communicator of biblical truths, as well as an excellent teaching aid for parents today. No other job on earth is more demanding, difficult, and rewarding than that of child rearing. Thankfully, we have the heavenly Father who has provided us with the basic training we need. This book provides workable principles and activities for accomplishing the incredible task of child rearing

Gina Pfister, homeschooling mother of 5, Cincinnati, OH

What a fun way to teach children about character traits. Each lesson is a complete unit and children will enjoy every activity. A must for every family.

Ann McCarty, mother of 2, Public and Sunday School teacher, Daily Vacation Bible School teacher, AWANA leader, Barrington, IL

As a parent who decided to raise her children with positive discipline, I wish I had had this book when my children were small. This book shows you how to motivate your children to be good, loving, moral, and honest, and avoid discipline that involves spanking or anger. The lessons are positive, easy to understand, and easy to apply. And since I know the McCarty children, I can honestly say this program works. Children need our love and care and guidance if they are to grow up to be good responsible adults. This book will start you on the right road.

Kristi Harms, mother of 2, Bennington, IN

If only everyone used this book, the world would be a kinder, gentler place.

Carolyn Bischoff, mother of 4, Cincinnati, OH

During the years God has granted to me, He has privileged me to be a Mother, Grandmother, a Public School Teacher, a Sunday School Teacher, an AWANA leader, and a Youth Counselor. Many times when I was trying to prepare for a teaching time or a project time with my children, grandchildren, or one of my class groups, a book like this one would have been most welcome. Oh, I could teach the lessons; I could even do the projects. But, it was the ideas that I needed. It was the orderly sequence to develop a theme that I would have found most helpful. The help is here for you. This book is tried, tested, practical, effective, and Biblical. I endorse this book with joy and enthusiasm.

Rachel M. Miller, Lake Zurich, IL

Diane and David McCarty are homeschooling parents of two children, Megan and Ian. They are firm believers in quality character education and nurturing the hearts of their young children. The McCarty family lives in beautiful Switzerland County, Indiana.
